Snow Days and Last Day of School

Since we have had no snow days at this point, our last day of classes is currently scheduled for Thursday, May 17. However, each time we have no school due to severe weather or any other unforeseen reason (ex. state basketball tournament), we add another day of school in May. For example, if we have 2 snow days, the last day would be Monday, May 21; if we have 4 snow days, the last day would be Wednesday, May 23; and so on. Therefore, please do not plan a summer vacation to begin Friday, May 18, because there is a very good chance that school will still be in session.
